

Kids Reading Circle Summer Reading List 2008

Print it out & Get Started Reading!

Check off your books as you read them, keep total tallies on the side...

It's nearly time to throw those knapsacks in the closet, stuff those dog-eared three-binders under the bed -- and pick up books you've wanted to read all year. The books that usually don't appear on school requirement lists.

But you're way ahead of us, right? Got a fresh stack of unread books on your desk ready to go? Got a library list all written out? What? No stack! No List! Well, turn on your printer because Kids Reading Circle has got just the list for you...Don't forget to use the Handy-Dandy Progress Chart and don't forget to print out your Achievement Certificate at summer's end!

Directions for Use:

In general the first half of each list more appealing to girls, the second half to boys, but often both will like both.

Visit your local library first! Many books below are part of a series -- so if you like, check for more!
